

With its rich tradition of community service, Virginia is home to nearly 50,000 registered nonprofit organizations. While each has its own unique mission and niche, all face many of the same issues -- from organizational structure, member and volunteer recruitment, and board management to financial limitations, funding and legal questions.

Now Virginia nonprofits no longer need to go it alone. A statewide organization has been formed to help nonprofits pool their expertise, energy and experience and to meet our common challenges: The Virginia Network of Nonprofit Organizations, or VANNO. With the creation of VANNO, Virginia joins 37 other states with statewide nonprofit networks and gains access to the resources of the National Council of Nonprofit Associations.

Like statewide networks across the country, VANNO can offer access to training, technical assistance and group purchasing. VANNO can provide a forum for sharing expertise, experience and best practices, as well as a central information and resource exchange. VANNO can give Virginia's nonprofit sector a statewide voice, and enhanced visibility.

VANNO was conceived in 2003 by a steering committee of nonprofit representatives from across the state. They concluded that nonprofit organizations and local charities could best leverage their resources and make their impact felt by joining together in a statewide network. Today VANNO is a 501(c)(3) organization with a board of directors and a core group of over 50 charter members. Several local and regional meetings have been held throughout Virginia to discuss how VANNO can best support nonprofits of all types and sizes.
